

AL. TIFFANY NAMED ON PARDONS BOARD BY GOV. EMMERSON

Antioch Man is First in County to Get Major Appointment

IS A REPUBLICAN LEADER

Albert N. Tiffany, federal district internal revenue collector and long a prominent republican leader, was named Friday by Governor Louis L. Emmerson as member of the Illinois state board of pardons and parole. This was the governor's first appointment of a major nature to come to Lake county. At the same time a complete reorganization of the pardon and parole board was announced, but it was not stated just when the new members would take office, but the retiring chairman, Hinton G. Clabaugh, announced he would quit Sunday.

Board Has Nine Members

Attorney W. C. Jones of Streater, is new chairman of the board which includes nine members, five of whom are Chicagoans. They include Col. William E. Buehler, a physician with offices in the loop, who resides in Glenview; Agnes S. McCartney, a sister of the late Richard Sullivan, prominent republican leader; the Rev. R. Keene Ryan, pastor of the Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian church; Thomas H. Cannon, attorney and leader in the Catholic order of Foresters; and William H. Harrison, Negro, assistant attorney-general, who ran for congress on an independent ticket opposed to Oscar DePriest.

The other appointees are Andrew Russell of Jacksonville, Ward E. Thompson of Rockford, P. B. Smith of Carbondale and A. N. Tiffany of Antioch.

Cannon Only Holdover
Attorney Cannon is the only hold-over member of the board. He was appointed by Gov. Small in July, 1927.

Minor appointments to be made within the next few days will include some half dozen highway patrolmen and a few conservation department employees.

FIVE ARE INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS WHICH OCCURRED NEAR WILMOT

Eugene Frank, Wilmot, and Four Chicago People Re- ceive Injuries

When his car collided with a truck driven by Harry McDougall, Eugene Frank of Wilmot was severely shaken up and his car was badly damaged. The mishap occurred in the driveway of the Louis Gandt farm yard, Wilmot, Saturday morning.

Cars Crash as They Attempt to Pass
As McDougall started to turn into the driveway, Frank, who was going in the same direction, attempted to pass him. At that instant the two machines crashed; the sedan was turned over on its top by the force of the collision.

Mr. McDougall and Frank Flegal, who was with him, immediately jumped from the truck and extricated Mr. Frank from the wreckage. The Frank car was taken to Milwaukee for repairs. It is reported that McDougall carried liability insurance on his truck.

Chicago People Injured

Two Chicago couples were injured when the Buick sedan in which they were riding skidded in the sand and started for the river just north of Wilmot on the river road Sunday afternoon.

One of the men of the party received the most painful injuries when he was thrown against the broken windshield. They were all taken by a passing automobile to the office of Dr. H. C. Darby, Wilmot, where it was emphasized that their injuries were not serious. The car was badly wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rentner visited with Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Hancock of Duluth, Minn., the first of the last week.

WILMOT JEWELRY STORE ROBBED; LOSS IS $2,000

Burglars Take Entire Stock of R. C. Shottliff Thursday Night

NOT COVERED BY INSURANCE

As the result of his jewelry and general store being burglarized last Thursday night, R. C. Shottliff of Wilmot suffered a loss of $2,000. The robbers entered through the basement window on the north of the building and forced open the door leading from the basement into the store. It is believed that they left through the rear door.

Entire Stock Is Taken

When Mr. Shottliff entered the store Friday morning, and saw that there was a window shade drawn on the north side, he immediately realized that he had been robbed. All of his entire stock of wrist watches, rings, fountain pens, alarm clocks, watches on hand for repair, cameras, and films had been removed and the boxes were piled on top of the show cases. Money from the cash register, a couple of dollars in pennies, was also taken. The money left in the post-office drawers, the mail, and the stamps were unmolested.

SECRET SERVICE MEN ARE ON TRAIL OF LAKE VILLA GARAGE VANDALS

Detectives Believe Looting Mystery Is Near Solution Today

Detectives from a leading Chicago secret service organization today were investigating clues which it is believed will soon clear the mystery of looting of two Lake Villa garages Monday night.

Making entry by breaking a window, the thieves took gasoline, oil and auto accessories from the garage of Al. B. Maier at the outskirts of the village on Route 21, and the same night the vandals forced an entry into the state garage on Grand ave., where truck No. 40, property of the Illinois state highway department, was stolen. The truck was found on the Fox Lake road the following day.

Theft has been rampant in Lake Villa for many months, hence the employment of the secret service agents in an effort to stop the practice which is believed to be 'home talent.'

ILLINOIS HIGHWAY POLICE FORCE TO BE REORGANIZED SOON

245 to Get Jobs as Road Patrolmen, Cleaveland Announces

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—Complete reorganization of the Illinois Highway Police force will be effected in the next few days, Harry H. Cleaveland, director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings, announced today. Two hundred and forty-five men on the 300 allowed by the last General Assembly will be assigned to patrol duty with orders to enforce without fear or favor the regulations regarding traffic on the paved roads of the state.

112 Patrol Routes in State
Practically complete plans call for 112 patrols operating out of nine district centers. These centers are the same as the district offices of the highway department and are located at the following towns:

District No. 1—Elgin
District No. 2—Dixon
District No. 3—Ottawa
District No. 4—Peoria
District No. 5—Paris
District No. 6—Springfield
District No. 7—Effingham
District No. 8—East St. Louis
District No. 9—Carbondale

Organization of the highway patrol has been worked out by Mr. Cleaveland in co-operation with Fred Tarrant, engineer of maintenance of the state highway department, and Walter L. Moody of Springfield, assistant superintendent of the Highway Patrol force. Mr. Moody and Mr. Tarrant will be in active charge of the new force.

Nine Sergeants to Be Appointed

ANTIOCH MAN WILL BE GIVEN SANITY HEARING

Wilbur Snyder, 35, Antioch resident since last June, was taken into custody at three o'clock today following threats of violence and declaring he would commit suicide unless his father-in-law, E. O. Sayles, gave him a thousand dollars. Marshal Simonsen and Constable Horan were called after Snyder created a disturbance at his home on Park avenue. After a struggle with the man who resisted arrest, he was placed in the village jail.

Sheriff Doolittle will take Snyder to Waukegan late today and it is understood he will be given a sanity hearing before Judge Persons.

Snyder, who was in the Florida storms last year, was formerly a salesman for a medicine company. Recently he was in the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., where he received treatment for nervous disorders.

CITY BRIEFS

George Garland is undergoing a voluntary operation for appendicitis at the Burlington hospital today.

Marshal Simonsen and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mortensen enjoyed a vacation trip to the Dells and other Wisconsin points the first of this week. Marshal Simonsen was back on the job today after enjoying a fifteen-day vacation.

New sidewalks are being laid on Main and Ida streets along the Episcopal church property this week. Hans Johnson is the contractor. Many other stretches of walk are to be laid this fall.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND WILMOT FAIR THIS WEEK

Exhibitions Are Bigger And Better Than In Former Years

LIVESTOCK IS TO BE FEATURED

The attendance this year at the West Kenosha County fair, which is being held at Wilmot, has exceeded any previous record, according to Charles Freeman, fair secretary, and the exhibits in all lines are superior to those of other years.

Over three hundred feet of additional tent space had to be provided and all entries of cattle, sheep, hogs, and horses are more than double over last year. Never before, have so many well-known stock men brought their exhibitions to this fair.

Friday, which is the last day of the fair, is agricultural day. The features, which will be staged are music by the North Shore band, a speaker at 2 o'clock, free acts at 2:30, stock parade and auto parade at 3, fun contests at 4, free acts at 7:30, and dancing begins at 9 o'clock.

When interviewed Monday, Sec. Freeman said that because the entries in all of the departments were so large this year, he saw no possibility of holding another fair in Wilmot in the crowded space which was obtainable there. Neighboring farmers have refused to sell or rent land, which would help do away with the crowding of the exhibits.

VERNON RAMSEY, AVIATOR, IS MADE SHERIFF'S DEPUTY

Former Antioch Pilot Is Added to Sheriff Doolittle's Force

Vernon Ramsey, ex-army lieutenant and former pilot at the Antioch air port, has joined Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle's staff of Lake county deputies. It is the sheriff's plan to take advantage of anything aviation can add to the apprehension of criminals, locating bodies of drowning victims, or in the carrying out of the routine of his office. Ramsey, head of the McMillan-Ramsey Flying Service, at the Waukegan airport, was deputized last Thursday. For two years Doolittle has wanted to add an aviator to his staff.

CATHOLIC CHURCH TO BE COMPLETED BY CHRISTMAS DAY

Construction Company With Crew of 60 Men Are Rushing Work

RECTORY IS NEARLY FINISHED

Belief that the new St. Mary's Catholic church here will be practically completed and ready for occupancy by Christmas time was expressed today by Father Daniel Fravelley who has been assured by the Lynch Construction company that work will be rushed as rapidly as possible. The walls and roof will be finished by the first of November, according to Chris Lomas, superintendent for the Lynch company, who has a crew of 60 men on the job every day.

Rectory Soon Ready

The rectory, an important and very beautiful part of the local parishioners' new $150,000 property, is practically completed and will be ready for occupancy about October 15.

The church and rectory are being built of Lannon brown and grey variegated stone. Inability to get this material in sufficient quantities has delayed progress of building work many weeks.

FOUR TRAFFIC LANES WOULD CUT CAR JAMS

Wide Highways Would Pay For Themselves Through Speed and Safety

By E. E. Duffy

Motoring towards a large metropolitan center on a sunny Saturday afternoon, when wheeled hordes are bound for the open country, reveals pertinent facts about highways.

The first thing that is forcibly impressed upon motorists going against the heavy traffic flow is that two lane roads are decidedly not wide enough—usually by two lanes. Slow trucks, crawling old hulks of cars, hyper-cautious drivers hold back traffic until a jam of cars a quarter mile or so long results.

Drivers driven to distraction by delays then suddenly dart out from their prescribed lanes of travel when on coming traffic permits of a passing. Here, the well known human element enters in, for if a driver misjudges the open spaces a collision may result. A four-hour ride against this wave of country-bound traffic brought several narrow escapes that cannot be recounted without a rise in blood pressure.

In addition to the dangers present in forging ahead on the two-lane road, there is the inability to get speed in keeping with the temper of modern cars, most of which travel some fifty miles an hour without excessive vibration. Fifty miles an is not dangerous speed, yet it cannot be conscientiously attained on the narrow road when cars are thick.

Another criticism of the rural road, in remote regions as well as metropolitan areas, is that it usually passes through the center of every hamlet and town on the route. One little town in southern Wisconsin, with a single traffic light on the main highway running through on the chief business street, is frequently nothing short of choked with automobiles that have no business there.

Narrow roads must be widened as fast as communities can make finances available, for without doubt congestion and accidents are costing as much or more than wider roads. Two-lane roads are suitable for traffic only where week-day travel is light and week-end travel moderate. A heavy volume of traffic demands roads at least four lanes in width. Accidents would be reduced considerably if by road builders' magic all congested routes were to be widened. That would mean a distinct lowering of car insurance rates.

The old Briggs house, which is located a short distance from the Chain O' Lakes Golf course, burned to the ground Sunday forenoon. The fire was of unknown origin. The house, which has been vacant for about ten years, was owned by Tom Fields, who makes his home at Trevor. It is reported he carried no insurance.

APPRECIATE SAFETY MOVEMENTS

That there is a human side to business as well as a purely commercial side is illustrated by the action of an oil company on the Pacific coast which has been erecting air beacons every 50 miles from Canada to Mexico. This company has been a leader in aviation development.

Aviation has caused mothers (and fathers) of the present generation great anxiety and worry because of the interest their sons (and daughters) take in this newest branch of sport and industry. Boys (and even girls) take to the air like ducks to water.

A mother said to the president of the oil company mentioned: "You are doing everything in your power to encourage aviation, which naturally increases the sale of your product. Do you not think you owe it as a duty to the mothers of the boys who fly the ships and the girls who ride in them, to help make aviation more practical and safe by erecting suitable markers for guidance of flyers at night?"

Here was a problem to which real human interest attached. The head of the company accepted the challenge. He said: "We are pioneering in the field of air transportation and we will pioneer in the field of airway illumination."

The result has been the greatest system of air beacons up and down the Pacific coast that exists in the United States and probably in the world. Just as the Pacific coast led the country with paved automobile highways, it is now leading the country with properly illuminated air beacons.

This enterprise represents the progressive or human side of industry which cannot be figured in cold dollars and cents.

PLANT PROTECTION

Fall begins on Saturday and as a result, there are many extra tasks which fall upon the housewife. One of them is the care of the plants. Not one person in ten, on an average, gives the plants, which afford him so much pleasure throughout half the year, the protection much require in winter to enable them to do their best, and because he fails to understand the necessity for it and the benefits derived from it.

Very few of our plants are so hardy that they are able to pull through our long and severe winters in what most unobserving amateur gardeners would consider good condition, without protection, and on this account, protection is considered unnecessary; but the person who studies his plants during all seasons and under all conditions, knows very well that even the hardest plants do so much better when protected at their roots during winter that it richly repays all labor and expense entailed in giving that protection. According to authorities, protected plants are not only earlier in coming on, but they make a much stronger, sturdier growth and the difference in size and quantity of flowers on protected and unprotected plants of the same variety is so marked that they are generally taken as being distinct sorts. Our northern winters are very trying to our most hardy plants, because of the long spells of intensely cold weather alternating with thaw days, often with lack of snow during the early part of the season. If not protected, frost has a most harmful effect on the roots. Today they may be frozen, tomorrow may extract the frost, thus injuring the cells by the alternate action of cold and warmth, and this action may be repeated many times before enough snow comes to put an end to it. Fall and spring are more trying seasons to plants than winter is, because of the fluctuations in temperature. If anything can be done to counteract this it stands to reason that it ought to be done in consulting the welfare of our plants.

Those who grow flowers from a love of them will be as kind to them as they would be to dumb animals. They will look upon them as living things, not as mere inanimate objects. Plants hear, feel, and see just as well as we do—yes, they are human too. Oh, those little plants do so many things just like we do. The tulip walks away from darkness; the pitcher-plant eats various kinds of insects; the compass plant acts as a compass and in reality it serves mankind in that capacity in that it always turns its leaves toward the north; violets and poppies really carry life insurance in that they store up food in their roots; and the water-lily they store a clock, because it always opens and closes at a definite time. Plants also possess an active and a passive mentality. An example of the former characteristic is the fact that they are able to detect salt and sugar and nearness to water. Carnivorous plants must have an active mentality, because they will enclose only that which they can eat. Plants also possess a sense of spirituality. Even in Greek and Roman times, plants were symbolized to represent Gods and Goddesses. "Where there is beauty there is Godliness," and so God must be directly connected with the beautiful lily-of-the-valley and the geranium.

In the light of these facts, protect your plants this fall.

CHANCE FOR BUSINESS CLUB

To grow a town must have some natural advantages, but generally speaking the average town is at least a good site for a city. Most "Main Street" cities have at least one railroad and one hard road. Antioch has two paved state highways, (will have three).

Most towns are surrounded by good farm land, some have factories, and some have paved streets, a couple or three banks, one or more newspapers, good churches and schools—and a lot of people.

Now strange as it may seem, and much as it may be doubted and disputed, it is not so much the difference in the railroad, the surrounding farm land, the nearness or distance to some great city, as it is the kind of people which decides the future of the town.

In this modern day of specialization and organization, no community can do its best work unless there is some central organization representing the "organized community."

Usually a "Commercial Association," "Chamber of Commerce," "League of Progress," or "Civic League" is the medium through which the community functions as an organization.

THESE THINGS WOULD HELP

There are some certain fundamental things that must go into the civic program of Antioch if citizens desire the community to progress and grow. Can any one deny that every town needs: (1) Spirit; (2) Vision; (3) A definite program; (4) An organization to carry out the program; (5) Work; Or does anyone doubt that our city must be friendly, interesting, progressive, organized?

There is a man who lives not so far distant from this city who recently purchased an automobile which might be appropriately classed with the kind which Hank Ford drives. (Oh, no, not on your life, you wouldn't see Hank behind the wheel of a lousy Lizzy. He drives what they call a Lincoln). Well anyway, it was learned today that this man traded the big car for a little one, with quite a bit of cash to boot. When asked the reason for the transaction, he replied, "Every time the darn motor turned over, it said, 'Nickle, Nickle'. So it wasn't punk tires nor a worn-out motor that time."

The birds are having a colorful existence these days. They just love to bathe and bathe in the bird baths which many of Antioch's thoughtful and unselfish citizens have provided for their little feathered friends.

The other day a nice little Ford was gracefully making its way lickety split down Lake street toward Main. All of a sudden the fair femme who was gently guiding its course jammed on the brakes. This dramatic episode was staged about 20 feet from the stop sign and the momentum shoved the car and its occupants way out onto Main street. The handful of observers were all set to pick up the pieces and mop up the Ford.

All that saved that would-be "Old-field" was the fact that no children ran out in front, no students were at the crossing, and no cars were coming from either direction on la rue Main.

Some day maybe that driver will race a train to a crossing and it will be a tie.

Since it rained so hard Monday there ought to be a larger human height mean in Antioch. It works that way with plants.

"How's your behavior?" inquired an old time friend greeting Harry Isaacs. "My behavior is O. K.—that's all I've got," replied the village clerk, as he deftly rolled another cigar into shape. But Harry has a lot more than mere good behavior. He must have the consciousness of a long and loyal service to his community; but he is too modest to admit it.

Pickled Onions

Peel the onions until they are white, scald them in strong salt water, then take them up with a skimmer; make vinegar enough to cover them, boiling hot; strew over the onions whole pepper and white mustard seed, pour the vinegar over to cover them; when cold, put them in wide mouthed bottles, and cork them close. A tablespoon of sweet oil may be put in the bottles before the cork. The best sort of onions for pickling are the small white buttons.

Pickled Cauliflowers

Two cauliflowers, cut up; one pint of small onions, three medium-sized red peppers. Dissolve half a pint of salt in water enough to cover the vegetables, and let these stand over night. In the morning drain them. Heat two quarts of vinegar with four tablespoonfuls of mustard, until it boils; add the vegetables, and boil for about fifteen minutes, or until a fork can be thrust through the cauliflower.

Red Cabbage

Procure a firm, good-sized cabbage, and after taking off any straggling or soiled leaves, cut in very narrow slices, which after you sprinkle them well with salt, lay aside for forty-eight hours. Next drain off the salt liquor which has formed, and pour over the cabbage a well seasoned pickle of boiling hot vinegar; black pepper and ginger are best for seasoning. Cover the pickle jars till the cabbage is cold, and then cork.

Pickled Green Tomatoes

Take the round, smooth green tomatoes, put them in salt and water, cover the vessel and put them over the fire to scald; that is, to let the water become boiling hot; then set the kettle off; take them from the pot into a basin of cold water; to enough cold vinegar to cover them, put whole pepper and mustard seed; when the tomatoes are cold take them from the water, cut each in two across, shake out the seeds and wipe the inside dry with a cloth, then put them into glass jars, and cover with the vinegar; cork them close or with a close-fitting tin cover.

Ripe Tomato Pickle

To seven pounds of ripe tomatoes add three pounds sugar, one quart vinegar; boil them together fifteen minutes, skim out the tomatoes and boil the syrup a few minutes longer. Spice to suit the taste with cloves and cinnamon.

Chopped Pickle

One peck of green tomatoes, two quarts of onions and two of peppers. Chop all fine, separately, and mix, adding three cupfuls of salt. Let them stand over night, and in the morning drain well. Add half a pound of mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls of ground allspice, two of ground cloves and one cupful of horseradish. Pour over it three quarts of boiling vinegar.

Piccalilli

One peck of green tomatoes; (if the flavor of onions is desired, take eight, but it is very nice without any); four green peppers; slice all, and put in layers, sprinkle on one cup salt, and let them remain over night; in the morning press dry through a sieve, put it in a porcelain kettle and cover with vinegar; add one cup of sugar, a tablespoon of each kind of spice; put into a muslin bag; stew slowly about an hour, or until the tomatoes are as soft as you desire.

Cold Slaw

at Her Home

One day Sally Ann and her daddy went out for a walk in the woods. All of a sudden they heard something puffing and puffing behind them; what do you suppose it was? A nice old doggie who wore a beautiful silver collar. He was neither big nor little, light nor dark, smooth nor curly, but just betwixt and between.

Sally Ann and her daddy grew fond of him right away and decided to take him home that night. Of course they didn't know what his name was so papa said, "Let's call him Sport".

Nearby there was a little lake and although it was lovely to look at, it has its dangers like all lakes. About half way around, there lies a smooth, broad, slippery belt of deep mud. As Sally Ann, her daddy, and the doggie approached the lake, Sally Ann asked permission to puddle in the water, but her daddy said that she couldn't, because she might get drowned. Of course Sport could go in without asking permission, and Sally Ann didn't like that a bit. So she decided that she was going to watch her chance to at least venture on the sand.

After warning Sally Ann not to go on the water, daddy quietly walked over to the other side of the lake, leaving his little girl and Sport to portion of one tablespoonful of oil to four of vinegar, a teaspoonful of made mustard, the same quantity of salt and sugar, and half as much pepper. Pour over the salad, adding, if you choose, three tablespoonfuls of minced celery; toss up well and put into a glass bowl.

Tomato Mustard

Slice and boil for an hour, with six red peppers, half bushel ripe tomatoes; strain through a colander and boil for an hour with two tablespoonfuls of black pepper, two ounces of ginger, one ounce allspice, half ounce cloves, one-eighth ounce mace, quarter pound salt. When cold add two ounces mustard, two ounces curry powder, and one pint of vinegar.

Throwing Light on Tomatoes

Who ever would have suspected that tomatoes are not red? It all depends upon the light in which you look at them, according to John H. McGillivray of the Purdue University Agricultural Exposition Station, Lafayette, Ind. What we consider as white or white light, he wrote in a recent issue of "The Canner", is in reality composed of many different colors. A tomato has no way of creating color, but it merely exerts a selective action on light.

A Different Light

A ripe tomato is red in white light, but different colored light may greatly affect the color. A red light will make it appear a brilliant red, likewise yellow light, and almost black or gray in all the other colors.

Another light is thrown on tomatoes in an editorial in the Standard-Examiner of Ogden, Utah. It tells of a full page advertisement in the Journal of the American Medical Association setting forth that an enterprising mid-western canner is packing strained tomatoes in convenient tins for use in child feeding, and asks who the excellent qualities of the tomato for this purpose, which have long been recognized, have never been advertised in the way orange growers, for instance, get forth the peculiar merits of their product.

No less an authority than Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins University is authority for the statement that there is no preference between orange and tomato juice for infants and that you can safely choose the one which you can get most conveniently.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Weber, Jr., was the scene of a very pleasant occasion last Saturday evening when they celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

Several different games were played and prizes given to those most proficient in art, advertising, etc.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. H. FACULTY RECEPTION IS WELL ATTENDED

A large number had an enjoyable time at the Methodist church last Friday evening, the occasion being a reception to the faculty members of the Antioch schools. The room was beautifully decorated with baskets of flowers, and the games, which were planned by Rev. and Mrs. Bohl, were interesting and unusual.

Former pastor, S. E. Pollock, extended the welcome, after which talks were given by Principals L. O. Bright and W. C. Petty, by whom the teachers were introduced to the audience.

Two readings given by Mmes. A. J. Felter and Philip Bohl concluded the program. Light refreshments, consisting of punch and wafers, were then served. Everyone departed with a genuine sociability.

Channel Lake Country Club Members Linger to Enjoy Late Season Events

Tuesday Parties Continue

The Tuesday afternoon card parties conducted by the ladies of the Channel Lake Country Club are continuing through the month of September, and a good attendance is being shown at each meeting. Mrs. J. Ernest Brook is the newly elected chairman for this committee, and her assistants are Mrs. Wm. E. Cooper, Mrs. L. Harry Arms, and Mrs. Wm. J. Smyth.

Tournament Winners Announced
A summer tournament was conducted through the months of July and August, and the prize winners were: Mrs. W. W. Warriner, first prize; Mrs. C. W. Clingman, second prize; Mrs. O. R. Kresse, third prize; Mrs. J. Ernest Brook, fourth prize and Mrs. Frank H. Hardeste, fifth prize.

Local Women Are Hostesses

The luncheons for the last two parties are being conducted by the two resident members of the Dining-room Committee, Mrs. W. W. Warriner and Mrs. L. B. Grice, the kitchen having been closed for the season. These closing parties are among the most enjoyable of the season, as everyone helps, and the ladies are brought together in such close unity. Incidentally, it might also be mentioned that the luncheons prepared by the ladies are "the best ever."

Welcome Friends to New Home

Mrs. Louise Venn Juhnke is giving a series of luncheons and card parties to welcome her many friends to their new home on Venn's Island. The new house is very spacious and beautiful, having seven bedrooms, three bathrooms besides a large living-room and dining room, which open together as one room, and a most complete kitchen.

It is quite interesting and most unusual to know that the first meal served in her new home was for sixteen guests on Saturday, September 14 and everything went as smoothly as though there had been many meals served there. It was a true housewarming, and Mrs. Juhnke is to be congratulated not only upon her beautiful home, but also for her ability as a hostess in such brand new surroundings.

This month brings a general exodus of many of the members who must go back to the "big city".

Mr. and Mrs. Max Mauermann of Lake Marie left this week with their two sons, Max and Edward.

C. W. Laffin has returned from a business trip to New York, where he has been for the last month. Mrs. Laffin expects to return to Chicago this week, but will be in her cottage on Channel Lake over the week-ends for awhile longer.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pfleger and family have closed their cottage for the season and have returned to their home in Evanston. Also Mrs. Pfleger's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clingman, have returned to their winter home in Hollywood, California.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Bayrd are still in their cottage on Lake Catherine, have been spending the past two weeks at their other summer home in the north woods of Wisconsin, which they have closed for the season, and they plan to be here for another week or two, before returning to their home in Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paulson, Lake Catherine, have been spending the past two weeks at their other summer home in the north woods of Wisconsin, which they have closed for the season, and they plan to be here for another week or two, before returning to their home in Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gneadinger will probably keep their cottage open another week or two, but Mrs. Gneadinger will return home this week, only spending the week-ends on Lake Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mills have built a beautiful new home on Lake Marie this year and plan to keep open house the year around.

Except for week-ends, this week will be the last for Mrs. J. H. Sandell and her mother, Mrs. Lillie Britton, on Channel Lake. Also Mrs. J. N. Tankersley and her sister, Mrs. Adele Jurden, who has been her guest during the entire summer, will be

TURNING BACK

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Fayre in Marist Chapman's "Happy Mountain" had lost his knife and he was sulking about it. If he hadn't gone so far with Mart he wouldn't have lost his knife, and he prized the knife very much, indeed.

"I was amlin to turn back about here anyway," he explained, regretting, as many of us do, his foolish action. "Efa I'd known a step or two back all I know now, I'd a gone back afore."

How many of us would! But in life there is no retracing our steps. If we have wandered from the path, if we have made a foolish step, we must go on from where we are and pay the price of our error.

Barker has made a miserable failure of his first year in college. He has put off doing his tasks until the last minute; he has wasted his opportunities hoping before the end of the year to sprint up and finish the race with some sort of credit to himself. He has got into some habits which are not helpful through his inability to say no. Now he is in the same state of mind as Fayre—if he had known a step or two back, all he knows now, he would have done very differently.

"Can't I forget what I've done, and start all over again as a freshman?" he asks me. "I know, if I started over again I could make good."

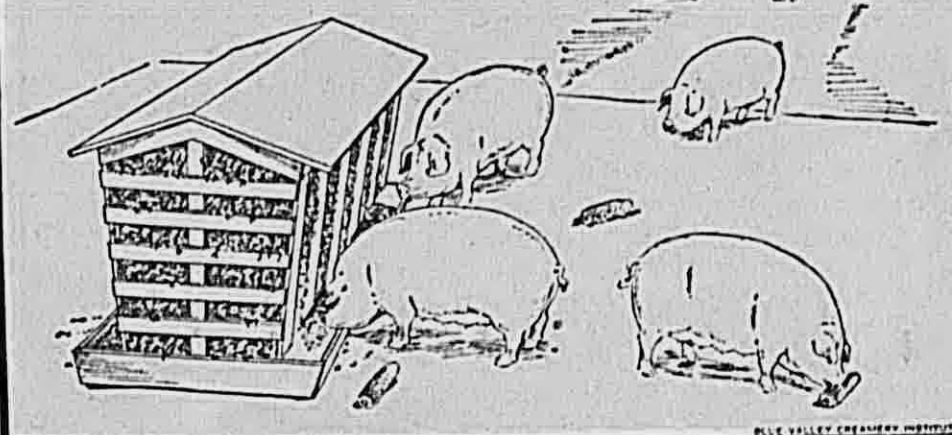

It is impossible both for Barker and for you and me. No one can get away from his past. Wherever he goes and whatever he does he must start from where he is now, handicapped by the mistakes he has made or pushed ahead by his successes.

McCord began drinking when he was a young fellow—moderately, of course, and with no intention of ever having the habit fasten itself upon him. He had never had too much before he was thirty, he would have said, though his statement would not have been wholly accurate, but it is true that he was seldom before that time seriously under the influence of liquor.

Now he is fifty or more and he is known about town as the village drunkard. He is talented, ambitious, he has more than the average amount of formal education, but he gets nowhere. People have no confidence in him; they shake their heads when any mention is made of him. He has lost the race.

EXERCISE THE BROOD SOW

Keep sows healthy by feeding at some distance from sleeping quarters

KEEP BROOD SOWS FROM GROWING FAT

Daily Exercise Will Prevent
"Catching" Disease Due to Lowered Resistance.

The longer brood sows can be kept on their feet, the better it is for their health and the better will be chances that they will farrow thrifty litters of pigs, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Unless forced to take exercise, brood sows will lie around in their quarters most of the time, get fat and out of condition, and become readily susceptible to disease owing to lowered resistance. To force brood sows to take plenty of exercise every day, experienced hog men find that it is a good plan to feed them at a place some distance from their sleeping quarters. This arrangement forces them to make several trips back and forth each day.

Alfalfa hay, either whole or chopped, kept in a rack out of doors, makes a fine feed for brood sows. In addition, a limited amount of ear corn and shelled corn, and some wheat or whole oats, scattered on the ground, will bring the sows out into the fresh air and keep them busy a good share of their time. With deep snow on the ground, it is well to make a path from the sleeping quarters to the feeding point. When the ground is icy and slippery, a little ashes will often prevent serious accidents which might result in abortion.

MORE MILK AND GREATER PROFITS WHEN MILK RECORD IS KEPT

KEEPING A DAILY RECORD OF EACH COW'S MILK PRODUCTION PAYS BECAUSE—

- 1 IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO GUESS SATISFACTORILY WHICH COWS ARE PROFITABLE AND WHICH ARE NOT
- 2 A COW REQUIRES FEED ACCORDING TO HER SIZE, AGE, AMOUNT OF MILK & TEST OF MILK
- 3 IT INDICATES AT ONCE COWS THAT ARE LIKELY TO BE SICK
- 4 IT CHECKS UP ON THE MILKER
- 5 IT MAKES MILKING AN INTERESTING JOB

BLUE VALLEY CREAMERY INSTITUTE

CHECK ON COWS IN SIMPLE RECORD

There is only one way to get the largest production of milk and the greatest profit from dairy cows, and that is by keeping some kind of a simple record of the milk produced daily by each cow, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. With increased costs of feed, labor and other items of overhead, the successful farmer knows that it is necessary to keep his production costs to the lowest possible point, if he is to make the most money from his work. This he does by checking up carefully each day on the milk production of each cow.

Keeping a daily record of the weight of each cow's milk production pays for several reasons. First, it is impossible to know by guessing at the production of cows which of them are profitable and which are not. Second, to keep down the feed cost, the biggest cost item in the production of milk, a cow should be fed in proportion to the amount of milk she gives, her size, age and the test of her milk.

Third, since a cow's milk production is immediately affected by the slightest sign of sickness, the daily milk record quickly tells the owner when something is wrong with the cow. This warning gives him an opportunity to do something for her and prevent serious sickness and loss of profit. Fourth, keeping a simple daily record of each cow's milk production serves as a check on the milker. When cows are not milked thoroughly, milk production falls off faster than is the case when they are carefully stripped at each milking. Fifth, too many times milking is looked upon only as a monotonous job, but when a record is kept of each cow's daily production, the task becomes an interesting one. It gives the milker an incentive to help the cow all he can to produce all the milk she is capable of producing.

KEEP DAIRY COWS OUT OF STALK FIELDS IN WINTER

Comfortable quarters and plenty of good milk-making roughage required for profitable milk production in winter

A reasonably good cow kept indoors in cold weather and fed liberally of alfalfa or other legume hay with a simple grain mixture and silage will produce milk profitably.

An equally good cow kept out in the corn field to rustle for her roughage and given a good grain mixture besides cannot be expected to be a money-maker.

"RUSTLING" COWS POOR PRODUCERS

Heavy Milk Givers Usually Thin in Flesh; Must Have Comfortable Quarters.

Dairy cows forced to rustle around a cornstalk field for a part of their feed in winter cannot produce enough milk to make them profitable, declares the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Even when the very best of grain feeds are fed to cows which are called upon to get all their dry roughage in the stalk field, there is very little chance for them to make a worthwhile milk yield. One reason for this is that cows that are kept out of doors use up most of their feed to keep warm, and the other reason is that there is very little in cornstalks from which a cow can make milk.

A good milk-producing cow is usually thin in flesh. She is thin-skinned and cannot stand the cold. She needs to be kept in warm quarters to be comfortable. Even under such conditions she cannot make much use of cornstalks as a part of her feed. She needs plenty of digestible milk-making feeds all the time.

Once a cow is permitted to make a drop in her milk production due to exposure out of doors or due to improper feeding for a few weeks, she cannot be brought back to her former production during that milking period. So even when weather is favorable, cows running in cornstalk fields and getting no other dry roughage will decline in milk flow rapidly and soon become unprofitable producers.

Cleaning up the stalk field is a job for horses who are not worked much during the winter, dry beef cows and stocker steers. But cornstalks are practically worthless as a feed for dairy cows. Unless a farmer has an abundance of hay made from alfalfa, the clovers, soy beans, or other legumes for his cows in milk, it is difficult to make profit. However, the farmer who has legume hay, corn silage and a milk-making combination of grain feed and reasonably good cows will make money from his dairy herd.

ing the five drowning victims at Long Lake recently and ever since then Doolittle has been of the opinion that an airplane could be of real value to the office, says the Waukegan Sun.

While Ramsey failed in his attempt to locate the bodies it was due to the fact that motorboats, towing drag nets and grappling hooks, had stirred up the mud so that he could not see the bottom of the lake. He had been able to see the bottom of the other lakes he crossed in going out there.

"Next time there is a drowning, and especially the coming season, I will keep all boats out until you can look things over and then we can get the bodies without any effort," the sheriff advised Ramsey.

In addition he thinks the aviator will be of aid in pursuing criminals in cases of big robberies.

"He can pick them up from the air and indicate to the squads following where they are going," the sheriff explained.

Ramsey holds a commercial license and flies a Stinson-Detrolter monoplane with a Wright motor. The ship cost in the neighborhood of $9,000 and is licensed.

The largest groups of insects in the universe is that of the beetle. There are some 150,000 different species, almost a tenth of that number in the United States. The word beetle means "blister," indicating the insects' ability of fighting and working with its mouth. Some beetles can scarcely be seen while others are about four inches in length.

WHICH RULES

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

Hammers is a physician, a perfectly healthy one, too, who has seldom been forced to take any of the drugs which he carries around with him when he goes out to make his professional calls. Besides being healthy, he looks the part, a statement which cannot truthfully be made of every man who admits that he is well. Hammers believes that fat kills a good many people, or if it does not directly put an end to them, it at least does its best to put an end to their existence. People dig their graves with their teeth, he claims, and they begin to work at it early in life. They let their stomachs rule their heads and shorten their lives by such slavery. Any sensible person, he claims, might easily and comfortably live to be a hundred or more if he would eat little, exercise regularly, and get proper sleep.

The main trouble is we eat what we like, and worse than that we eat too much of it even when we know it isn't good for us. Now, I shouldn't eat strawberries, but I do. As a well-known columnist says: "I'd rather have rash than no berries."

It is very strange how we let our brains rule our stomachs. Mrs. Crane knows perfectly well that she is never comfortable after she eats meat, nor are those who are near her happy. Does she refrain from eating meat and confine herself to pulse as did Daniel and his young companions in Babylon? Not she.

"That baked chicken" (or roast turkey or broiled steak, whatever it may be) "looks awfully good," she says, when everyone is being served at dinner. "I don't believe a little piece would hurt me." And having taken a little piece and finding it delicious, she passes her plate for a second helping, and the ordinary consequences follow. Groves lays on flesh very easily.

at 30 miles an hour
but at 40—what?

Accelerating from 30 to only 40 miles per hour intensifies the strain on motor oil out of all proportion to the increased speed.

Heat rises 75° to 100°. Oil consumption practically doubles. And at 60 or 70 miles per hour, the strain on motor oil is terrific.

Shell engineers have taken all this into account. In developing Shell Motor Oil, they have produced a lubricant with a margin of safety that no ordinary oil provides.

Shell Motor Oil has ideal body at all operating temperatures. It won't break down. And one of its amazing qualities is its vitality. Shell has a habit of finishing 500 miles fresh and fit for further service.

Shell Motor Oil is today's outstanding development in the science of automobile lubrication. Prepared only from Nature's richest lubricating crude by the new Shell-developed, low-temperature refining process. And tested 259 times to check and certify the rich, unvarying quality of every quart.

Shell quality has been winning increasing thousands of motorists because it provides every essential of correct lubrication: Ideal Body at All Operating Temperatures, Low Pour Point, Low Carbon Content, and Non-Fouling Carbon.

"THE HOUSE OF COLOR"

TREVOR P. T. A. HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF SCHOOL YEAR FRIDAY

Fire Partially Destroys A Field of Clover Near Trevor

The Parent-Teachers held the first business meeting of the school year at the hall on Friday evening. It was decided to hold the meetings at the schoolhouse immediately after school during the remainder of the season. The teachers and parents are busy on a float for the Wilnot fair. The past two years they have captured first prize on their float.

There was great excitement for a few minutes on Sunday afternoon when the field of sweet clover between the Home Builders' plant and the Curtis and Sheen cottage was found burning. The fire was probably started by some passer-by, who threw away a cigarette. The conflagration was under good headway before it was discovered; by the quick response of the neighbors, it was soon extinguished. Had the wind been in the opposite direction, there would have been a great loss.

The Willing Workers met with Mrs. Evans on Thursday afternoon. They decided to postpone the meetings until October 24, when Mrs. Longman will entertain.

By mistake, Clarence Runyard's name was omitted from the list of Trevor children attending the graded school at Wilnot.

Mrs. Dorsey visited Mrs. Chumley, Bristol, Wednesday.

The 4-H club held a special meeting at Social Center hall Thursday evening to decide on a float for the Wilnot fair.

HEARD AT THE VILLAGE STORE

One hears a variety of remarks at a general store on Saturday evening, while being waited on.

The poor thin little mother with the under fed look comes in, leading one little child and carrying another, cross from lack of sleep. She inquires in a timid little voice for some rubbers for Tom, saying: "You see I got him some last fall but he has outgrown them." From the stock hastily shown to her, she selects a medium-priced sturdy rubber, and paying for her purchase from a well worn purse she makes her exit.

The over-rouged flapper comes in and insolently inquires for a pair of "Sun-tan" hose, size nine. After examining all the pairs in the box she declines them all, and goes her way.

The stout dowager, in her late fifties, comes in and asks in a languid voice, (you can plainly see she is bored with such small-town shopping) — for some "Keyzers silk gloves" in a certain shade of grey—the shade they are all wearing.

Father comes in carrying his first born and feeling entirely out of place, and unnecessary, waits for friend wife to try hats. He consents to a blue one which when taken home he will thoroughly despise.

One may pause to wonder what it's all about. What all this endless striving is for. By what instinct it is prompted? It seems as though we are all endowed with a desire for respectability, which must find outlet through getting for ourselves and those we love, the common necessities and decencies which every one else has.

Friend husband in the above paragraph, loves his wife devotedly, but no doubt he will scold her roundly for dragging him in to help her shop. He is afraid Bill will see him and give him the "royal-razz".

The poor thin little mother would resent it if any one insinuated that Jim was unable to support her in the way she deserves.

When we observe people and ponder on their actions we can find a sympathetic spot in our hearts for all of them.

Nothing Inside Worth Over Ten Cents

Everyone has seen the common ten cent store with the conventional sign over the door, reading "Nothing Inside Worth Over Ten Cents". This is not the only place where such a sign would be appropriate.

How many people are there whose conduct announces the fact that this phrase attached to their heads would not be out of place. Of course, all of us are not blessed with the same amount of "gray matter,"—that is our hard luck. But it is up to all of us to make the best of what we have. Remember the parable in the bible of the man who had given to him by his master five talents, and the one who had given to him one talent, and the remarks their master made to them when he arrived home?

To the one who had increased his five to ten, he said, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful in a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things." (Matt. 25:21). To the one who had buried his one talent and allowed it to lie dormant, he said, "For unto him that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance, but unto him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath." (Matt. 25:21). How many are there of us who are guilty of this same crime?

In contrast to this case is the one which can be illustrated by the following story. A man was making his first trip to America, and as the New York harbor came into view he noticed a tall building. "Ah, zat is your cathedral." A yankee who was standing close to his elbow answered him, "Huh, that's our Woolworth building."

The twadiness of the interior was for the time being camouflaged by a lofty exterior. We may be able to fool the public for a while, but not for long.

It is not for us to under-estimate the value of what we have, nor for us to over-estimate that which we have, and be satisfied in knowing we have done the best we could.

Obituary

Ezra H. Christensen

Final tribute was paid to the memory of Colonel Ezra H. Christensen, former well known Racine county auctioneer and cattleman who died a week ago at his home on the west coast, when more than 600 friends crowded the Masonic temple in Racine Monday afternoon.

Because of rain and the fact that the Raymond Baptist church was not large enough to accommodate the throng who attended, the scheduled services were changed and the last rites performed in the temple with Mr. Christensen's brother members of lodge No. 18, F. & A. M. in charge.

Rev. Edward Erickson, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church of Racine, who officiated at the funeral of Mr. Christensen's mother less than two months ago, conducted the services. A short service was held at the Joseph E. Christensen home in Sturtevant at 1:00 o'clock. Eight of Col. Christensen's boyhood friends, Dr. F. J. Fritchen, Henry Olson, Alfred Nelson, Harold and Frank Lingsweller, Ole and Charles Nyström and John Nelson were pallbearers. The entire livingroom was transformed into a bower of flowers.

The long funeral procession was led to the city, by special motorcycle escorts from the sheriff's department, and was met at the temple entrance by Masons. The cortege passed under the drawn swords of a score of Knights from Racine Commandery No. 7, in full regalia.

Rev. Erickson took his text from Revelations, "And there was no more sea."

I was said of Mr. Christensen:

"He was a singularly likeable character. His integrity was of the highest, his manner kind and gentle; his heart free from malice or guile. He possessed to a remarkable degree the ability to analyze, distinguish and apply sound judgment. Always patient, courteous and approachable, clear and sound in his judgment with a strong desire and determination to do right, his career as a business man approached that of an ideal. He bore the trials of life and fought its battles, till tired and weary of the struggle, he fell asleep. For him eternal rest remains."

Several of Mr. Christensen's favorite hymns were sung by a quartet.

Colonel Christensen was a partner in the firm of Christensen Brothers, dealers in livestock of Sturtevant being associated with his brother, Jos. E. Christensen. Besides dealing in stock they owned and operated several farms, and were real estate operators.

Several years ago he entered the auctioneering profession, and gained national prominence in this line. During this time his brother, L. C. Christensen, took up the profession, and has continued to carry it on.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christensen of Tomah; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott, Jane Judd, Wilnot Judd, Attorney James Christensen, all of Chicago;

Chester Christensen, Camp Douglas, Mrs. Eva Plink, Oconomowoc; Andrew Filbank, California.

Following the services the casket was placed in the receiving vault at Mound cemetery, side by side with that of his mother, Mrs. N. M. Christensen, where they will remain until a permanent family mausoleum is erected.

Mrs. Christensen and her three children, Ezra H. Jr., Dorothy Marie and Joseph Edwin will remain for some time in Sturtevant.

Your new car will be worth more a year from now if it's an EIGHT!

Every month it becomes more obvious—motorists want the sweep of power, the smoothness, the thrilling acceleration—and the distinction of the Eight.

In eight key states new car registrations for the first six months of this year showed a 90 per cent increase in Eights above $1000—while Sixes above $1000 decreased 16 per cent.

Studebaker offers three great lines of Eights that hold more American stock car records for speed and stamina than all other makes combined. Eights of brilliant performance—economical as the thriftest Sixes. So supremely ahead of the times that public response already has made Studebaker the largest maker of Eights in the world.

Why not get an Eight—a smart new Studebaker Eight? Enjoy it today and have a car that will be worth more a year from now—because Eights will then be at a premium in a used car market glutted with Sixes.

"They live over there—in that well-lighted house"

A sign of a well-ordered home

When you want guests to find your house easily, turn on the lights.

If you're proud of your home and like to have it admired, turn on the lights.

There are homes costing tens of thousands of dollars that are only black blurs against the skyline at night because the owners think they are saving money on light.

The family towel has given way to individual towels. But the one light in the living room still struggles along, trying to do the work of ten.

What do you think is the difference in cost between a well-lighted home and a half-dark home? Hardly a half-dollar a month.

No other comfort costs so little as good light; and none gives your home so much distinction, both inside and out.

Better light at lower cost

You pay a lower rate for electricity today than ever before.

Lamps are better. They give more light, and better, softer light. The cost of burning a lamp of average size for an entire evening is about equal to the price of a postage stamp.

This advertisement is published in the interest of a more beneficial use of electricity, and to inform you how to obtain the best lighting service for the current consumed.

headquarters at Springfield. Mr. Cleveland said. "Heavy traffic in the Metropolitan area around Chicago and near East St. Louis make it advisable to have both day and night patrols in those two districts. A system of telephones will be maintained so that the patrolmen may keep in close touch with their district offices. The 245 patrolmen being assigned to duty will work in 112 patrols. Sixty percent of the men will work in automobiles while the remainder will be mounted on motorcycles. All men on patrol duty will have regular hours of duty but all will be subject to call for extra service at any time emergency demands require additional service."

Governor Louis L. Emmerson believes that the reorganized state highway police force will render a decided service to the general public. Increasing traffic makes state supervision indispensable and the governor has instructed the department to use every means to give Illinois the best highway patrol system in the country.

MILLBURN MAN IS INJURED

John Choje of Millburn was painfully injured last week while cutting corn. As he stepped down from the binder to pick up a line which he dropped, he tripped, the horses started, and the big wheel ran over the entire length of his leg. An artery was cut and he was badly bruised. No bones were broken, however. He was removed to Dr. Jamison's office, where it was found necessary to take several stitches.

Wilmot Man Narrowly Misses Having His Car Stolen at Bristol Friday

Floyd Stoxen, Wilmot, narrowly missed having his Dodge sedan stolen at Bristol Friday evening. As Mr. and Mrs. Stoxen got out of the car in front of the Mitchell home, a man must have stepped into it from the opposite door. The Stoxens proceeded into the house, unaware of the fact that there was someone sitting in their machine. Investigation was started by a boarder at Mitchell's, who was the first to notice the man. As soon as he approached the car, the man who was evidently contemplating theft of the car ran away. A searching party was immediately organized, but the would-be-thief has not as yet been located. Mr. Stoxen took out burglary insurance on his way home.

TWO RESIDENTS OF LAKE COUNTY ARE KILLED IN PLANES

Highland Park Woman And Deerfield Man Are Victims

Two residents of Lake county and two others were killed Saturday evening when the planes in which they were riding collided 500 feet in the air above Northbrook, near the Lake and Cook county line, and then crashed to the earth after locking wings.

Mrs. Bird, Wm. J. Johnson Killed
The two residents of Lake county killed in the crash were Mrs. Mildred Bird, 28 years old, wife of B. L. Bird, a bond broker living at 925 South Sheridan road, Highland Park, and William Johnson, Jr., 23 years old, of Deerfield, owner of a retail ice company.

Pinned in Wreckage
The four victims were pinned in the wreckage of the planes when the motors were forced back into the fuselage by the impact. The planes fell 900 feet apart in open fields. As the accident occurred just outside of the Lake county line local authorities are not taking a part in the investigation into the tragedy.

"IN SCHOOL DAYS"

High School Freshmen Are Royally Razzed At Initiation Ceremony

Art and Nature Study Are Being Emphasized at Grade School

The initiation ceremony which the juniors staged in honor of the freshmen was postponed from Friday night until Saturday night on account of its conflicting with the faculty reception. It was a success in every sense of the word and before the evening was over the upper classmen saw to it that the freshmen got the "royal-razz." Games were played and the refreshments very appropriately consisted of green sandwiches, green river, and green ice cream. Mrs. Dardenne and Mr. Kutil acted as chaperones.

Two subjects which are receiving special emphasis in every class at the Antioch Grade school this year are art and nature study. A separate room has been provided for the former science and with a teacher in charge who has both training and natural aptness every opportunity is offered to the children of this community to express in form and color the simple beauty with which they are familiar. In nature study the boys and girls receive benefits not only from outdoor observation, but also from indoor interpretation.

Mr. Peterson, in company with Hans von Holweg, former organist at the Crystal theatre here and now of Park Ridge, went to Decatur Monday, where they purchased instruments for the beginning members of the high school orchestra. Mr. von Holweg will be at the high school two days each week to give musical instruction to the students.

The members of the senior class are sponsoring a movie, "Twin Beds", which is played by Jack Mulhall and Patsy Ruth Miller, at the Antioch theatre Wednesday and Thursday, September 25 and 26. Admission for adults will be 50 cents and for children, 25 cents.

The football game with Bensenville on September 21 will be played at Bensenville instead of on the local field as previously announced.

The fifth grade pupils, together with their teacher, Miss Meyer, and Miss Marner, enjoyed a wienner roast in Emmons' woods Wednesday.

Many of the rooms in the grade school have already taken on fall atmospheres. Leaves, pictures, and various drawings decorate the walls and bulletin boards.

Miss Hynek, who has a class of 39 pupils, the largest in school, had a perfect attendance all last week.

Miss Harwood and her sixth grade boys and girls hiked out into the country for a wienner roast Tuesday after school. Enroute, they made a study of butterflies, among them being the Millweed butterfly, the Black Swallow-tail, and the Mourning Cloak.

The high school cafeteria menus for next week are as follows:

Monday: Baked ham, 10c; creamed potatoes, 5c; tomato salad, 5c; apple sauce, 5c; spinach, 5c; butter sandwiches, 2 for 5c; milk, 5c; chocolate, 5c; orange juice, 5c; pickles, 1c; olives, 1c; cookies, 3c; ice cream, 10c.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Jyrch Return From Trip Abroad

After spending three months in Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Jyrch have returned to their home southwest of the city. While there, they toured by automobile Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Holland, and Czechoslovakia. It was the first time in 43 years that the Jyrches had visited these countries. Mr. Jyrch has a brother and other relatives living in Germany. "We were royally treated wherever we went", said Mr. Jyrch, when questioned about the hospitality of the European people.
